The remarkable medicinal and curative power of the water is well known to the medical profession and to the springs going public. As an

There is no known mineral water equal to it. In all anæmic conditions of the system, and broken down states of the constitution, loss of appetite, &c., &c., general nervous prostration, its powers and virtues as a restorative may be easily pronounced second to without a known rival among the mineral waters of the world. CAROLINA TIMES.

R. P. WARING, Editor.

CHARLOTTE.

Friday, August 20, 1869.

TRUE ENOUGH.—The New York Times says that the late war "changed in some degree the theory of the Government." Well, it did, adds the Richmond Dispatch. It transformed a free Government into a despotic one. It converted States into Counties. It abolished the written Constitution framed by our fathers, and for it substituted an unwritten one—that is to say, the will of the majority in Congress. It deprived the States of every right they had, and thereby deprived the citizens of every personal right. We mean, of course, that these rights are now held by sufferance, the National Government having power to take them away whenever it shall feel so inclined; whereas, before the war these rights were considered so sacred that no men would have dared to lay rude hands upon them.

COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMERCIAL COMPANY, NORFOLK, VA., AUGUST 14th, 1869.

The Committee appointed by the Convention held at Bristol, Tenn., to establish a line of steamers between Norfolk, Va, and Liverpool, England, of which Gen. Wm. Mahone was Chairman, reported to the Norfolk Convention, held in October last, that it was expedient to organize under the charter granted to the International Commercial Company by the Legislature of Virginia.

The requisite amount being subscribed to authorize the organization of the Company, the following was unanimously adopted by the Convention:

"Resolved, That the Commissioners named in the charter of the International Commercial Company of the city of Norfolk, be, and they are hereby requested to call a meeting of the subscribers which have now been secured, at some central point as early as practicable, with a view to a provisional organization of the Company, and to the end that effective means may be had for procuring the full amount of capital required to put the enterprise upon a permanent basis."

Under this resolution a meeting was called to meet in Lynchburg, which was duly held and additional subscriptions made, and the subscribers adjourned over without organization until a further call by the Commissioners.

The Memphis Commercial convention having unanimously endorsed this scheme of organization for the establishment of a line of steamers between Norfolk and Liverpool, the commissioners deem it proper that the subscribers to the company should meet on the 1st of September next, in Norfolk, for provisional organization, and have therefore called on them to assemble on that day.

The importance of direct trade to the prosperity of Virginia and the other Southern States being acknowledged by all, the commissioners deem it unnecessary to say anything on this subject, and regard it as only necessary for them to state the plan upon which it is proposed to conduct the company in the beginning.

In the report to the Norfolk Convention it was stated that—

"Your committee have further ascertained that under the existing laws of the United States in respect to ship-building, steamers suitable to the purposes of direct trade cannot be procured in the United States, except at a cost far exceeding that of like vessels built in Great Britain; and that British vessels cannot be registered and owned on this side as American property. Besides, it is well understood that the expenses of operating American built steamers are your committee would recommend the policy which has governed the formation of the leading steam lines of the country, such as the Cunard, where the system of chartering English vessels sailing under the British flag has been successfully pursued: and this plan of operations is fully authorized by the terms of the charter to which reference is made. This manner of organization, in your case, and which your committee would recommend, will secure practically the results which you seek to attain, and at a cost which, your committee entertain the hope, will be found within the compass of the several interests involved in the success of the enterprise. Your committee entertain the belief that the organization of a company under the charter referred to, with a capital of $300,000, will serve the immediate objects in view, and may be made, as well, the basis of a more extended and permanent organization of the service, as success may justify."

The plan of the company is to charter instead of to purchase or build steamers. To build or buy three first-class steamers would cost $1,500,000 in gold, an amount not easily raised in the South at present. But if it could be raised, the experience of other companies has taught us that in starting a line it is better to charter than to buy or build vessels. Until the line is established it is impossible to tell the charter of vessels best adapted to the trade—what proportion of passengers accommodation will be needed; whether swift and small carriers, or slow and large ones will be best; or whether steamers combining both speed and capacity will be needed. Chartered vessels can be displaced by more suitable ones at any time at a trifling cost, while to sell an ocean steamer is a very difficult job. A number of fine British steamers have been offered the commissioners for the proposed line and on most favorable terms. By this system of chartering, our American company can use European capital to supply the steamers, while retaining absolute management of the line.

Three hundred thousand dollars is all that is required to give the company the requisite warehouses, docks, &c., and ample margin upon which to charter a fleet of ocean steamers.

As it is important that a provisional organization of the company should be effected at once, the commissioners request that all subscribers who cannot attend personally will be represented by proxy.

Sunday night last the freight train on the Southside Railroad, when thirteen miles from Petersburg, Va., was thrown from the track by the adjacent ends of two rails being broken. The conductor's car was turned over and dragged some distance on its side.—Capt. Hobson, the conductor, it is thought, was thrown through the door in the side of the car. He was caught and dragged along beneath the heavy mass, and instantly killed.—The Rev. Wm. S. Miles, a colored minister, from Petersburg, was found in the car dead, with a deep wound on his temple. It is supposed he was killed by the stove falling on him.—The other inmates of the car escaped uninjured.—Standard.

A SAD SIGHT.—A friend informs us that as he journeyd from the sound to this city yesterday morning he was struck with a singular and sad spectacle which met his eye in a field about three miles from our corporate limits. An old white woman, with her hair silvered o'er with age, followed a plow, which was driven by down beneath the weight of age.

What poverty is this where we see a human being whose age alone entitles him to repose from labor, serving as a beast of burthen and cruelly condemned by fate to bear the yoke of oxen. It is a case which excites all of our sympathies and yet has in it something sublimely noble—that true hardihood of the sons of this soil; that manly endurance; that proud independence which will suffer all and attempt all—uncomplaining; bowing meekly to the hand of fate; laboring unto death, and earning a livelihood in the face of impossibility. What a spectacle! What a people is here exhibited by this rude illustration and this poor old couple. Grander than common warfare is this; sublime in the greatness of human sacrifice.

Operations have been commenced on the railroad bridge over the Savannah River, for the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad. It is to be of the "How Truss" patent, supported by four stone piers; the extreme length will be 900 feet, and it is to be completed by the first of January.—Mr. W. Murdoch is the contractor for the masonry, and the well known bridge builder, Mr. Renne, of North Carolina, has charge of the superstructure.

THE HEAVY DRY GOODS FAILURE IN NEW YORK.—The New York evening Post has the following in relation to the heavy failure already announced in a telegraphic dispatch:

"The mercantile community was startled this morning by the rumor that the extensive dry goods house of Bowers, Beekman & Co., No. 61 Leonard street, had suspended, and that the liabilities were between two and three millions of dollars. These rumors soon gained wide circulation, as is usually the case, creating great excitement in commercial and financial circles. It was learned upon inquiry of the firm that the rumors were based on fact and that the firm had suspended, with liabilities at more than two millions of dollars. The house was one of the heaviest in the city engaged in the business of domestic dry goods, and has long enjoyed the confidence of the mercantile community. The failure is ascribed to the great depreciation in the values of woolens in which goods it carried on immense transactions. Much sympathy is felt for the firm among business men generally, by whom the house was regarded as one of the most enterprising and honorable in the dry goods line. The members of the firm are busily engaged this afternoon in making up their books, and in a few days they will be enabled to make a report of their condition and the actual amount of their liabilities to their creditors."

Washington Letter.

From the Charleston Courier.

WASHINGTON, August 1[illegible]

The whole country is prepared to welcome the advent of Chinamen. Their labor, industry, frugality, ingenuity and adoption to all industries are needful for the recuperation of the South, and for the future prosperity of the North. In Massachusetts, Chinamen are wanted for all manner of handicraft work. New England farms are being abandoned on account of the high cost of labor. Virginia, with all its natural resources, cannot prosper without an increase of laboring population. In a recent visit to the Shenandoah valley, the most favored in climate, beauty and fertility of all the Middle States, Chinese labor is necessary for cultivation of the land. Though that region does not rely upon negro labor, to any very great extent, and though the crops, this season, are very good, the value of farming land is less than a fifth part of the value of valley land in Pennsylvania.

Citizens of the Southern States, who are now here, state that the South is improving her resources, that lands are rising; the crops are excellent, and they are on the high road to prosperity, but they say they want and will have labor from China.

In this, the dullest season of the year, while business is stagnant, people are looking ahead with much hopefulness to the commercial and political future.

Crops in Europe will be generally short, while here they will be abundant. Grain will be exported at a fair profit, and help to pay the foreign balance which has been accumulating against us. The cotton crop will be large, and it is believed that it will bring from twenty-five to thirty cents a pound. Nor are political prospects discouraging.

The North and West heartily sympathize with the Conservative successes in the South. No matter what may be President Grant's disposition, or the extent of his influence in regard to the restoration of the excluded Southern States, the people will demand and will sustain elections fairly here, though they will be anti-Radical in their results. The people of the entire country are sick of Congressional usurpation and despotism as regards reconstruction. In my opinion, the President, though much badgered by the Radical politicians, will throw no obstacles in the way of the admission of the out-lying States upon their own terms, provided only that they accept the Fifteenth Amendment.

The Fifteenth Amendment is of less consequence now, in view of the accession of Chinese population, than it was heretofore. The negro cannot sustain himself in competition with John Chinaman, and must go to work! All apprehension of negro supremacy, in political affairs, in any of the Southern States, seems to be without foundation.

But though the Fifteenth Amendment may be adopted, that is the last of the Radical triumphs. It is the opinion of careful and disinterested politicians that if a general election were held to-day, the country would pronounce against the Republican party. The fall elections may not be a fair test of popular feeling on this subject. Pennsylvania will probably go Democratic, and elect Mr. Packer as Governor. But it may be doubted whether Ohio will do as well, though no more worthy and excellent man than Mr. Pendleton could be selected as the Democratic candidate. The people will not go back to old issues. They have enough of present and pressing affairs to manage. But there remains little doubt that Radicalism will be swept out at the next Presidential election.

General Grant has not much to do here his absence is not felt or regarded, nor are Cabinet members indispensable. The routine of Government business goes on without the presence of these chiefs.

The Cabinet did nothing at the Tuesday's meeting relative to Cuban matters. It is conjectured that at some future meeting they will take up General Sickles' dispatches and recommend the payment of a large sum of secret service money is required for the facilitation of an adjustment of Cuban difficulties, and the final acknowledgment oy Spain of Cuban independence.

To kiss a rosy-cheeked girl, and find your mouth filled with Venetian red, and she growing pale on it, is truly awful.

Chicago is beaten at her own game. A woman in England has had twenty-five husbands in thirty-nine years.—Decidedly married.

The friends of a wit expressed some surprise that, with his age and fondness for the bottle, he should have thought it worth while to marry. "A wife was necessary," said he. "They began to say of me that I drank too much for a single man."

That Horrible Chicago.

[New York Correspondence Mobile Register.]

I think I remarked in my last letter that I once met a Chicago lawyer who warmly advocated marriage, and who explained to me his reasons for so doing. For such a man to do such a thing was, to say the least, surprising. I listened with breathless interest while he gave me a brief history of his experience during the first ten years of his residence in that celebrated city.

Said he: "I first came to Chicago fifteen years ago. Then I was young and innocent, which it is hardly necessary for me to say that I am not at present. I had a friend living here whom I had known while he resided in New York, and conducted himself like a civilized man in a civilized community. As he had written to me to visit himself and his wife when I came to Chicago, I remembered the invitation when I did visit that city, and immediately on my arrival proceeded to his house. He was not at home just at the moment, and so I asked to see his wife, whom I had known only a year before in New York. In answer to my inquiry for Mrs. De Vorse, a pretty, black-eyed girl came into the drawing room and received me quite warmly.

"Well, we chatted very pleasantly together until my friend came in, and I really felt myself beginning to experience a very affectionate impulse towards her, supposing, of course, that she was his niece, or cousin, or something of that sort. But in the course of the evening I asked him whether his wife was at home, and, if so, when he proposed to let me see her.

"To my astonishment, he replied, 'This lady is Mrs. De Vorse. I thought you were already aware of the fact.'

"Of course I blushed and felt horribly uncomfortable, and said that I was not aware that he had lost poor Emily.

"Oh, said he, 'Emily is very well, and has married a partner of mine. We were divorced, you know, about six months ago, and I married my present wife only last week.'

"Well! I didn't feel quite so affectionate toward her after that, for I had been warmly attached to Emily; but we said no more about the matter, and I went away, vowing never to get myself into such a scrape again by asking after anybody's wife. I did not see my friend's new wife for about a month afterward, until I one day met her in the house of a mutual acquaintance, and in the course of conversation said to her: 'By the way, mine, I understand that I want him to come to my office some day next week?'

"'I don't think you know my husband,' she replied smilingly.

"'What do you mean?' said I, getting rather nervous.

"'Why, my new husband is named Smith,' she answered. 'I was separated from Mr. De Vorse yesterday morning, and married Mr. Smith last night.'

"I left that house pretty rapidly, and registered a second vow to the effect that I would never, to my dying day, ask a Chicago lady about her husband again. The two mistakes I had already made, as to Chicago wives and husbands, made me decidedly shy of them. But the very next day I went to De Vorse's store (corn, pork, and provisions), and found him engaged in conversation with a terribly angular female, who looked like a compound of a New England old maid, a Western woman's rights lecturer, and an Arkansas squatter's wife.

"Of course I pitied my friend, and, when the terrible female had remarked, 'I congratulate you on your escape; that horrible female would have exhausted any man's patience in ten moments' conversation.' What was my horror when he replied: 'I must beg you to peak more respectfully of that lady; she is at present my wife a fact of which you are of course, unaware, as we were married very privately last night.'

"I never said a word, but fled abruptly from his presence. Once more I swore—and I went before a notary who had the biggest kind of a Bible, so as to make the oath more binding—that never, never would I speak disparagingly of any Chicago woman to any man. After that I felt better, and for two weeks avoided making any more mistakes.

"At the end of that time, however, I met the new and angular Mrs. De Vorse, to whom I had in the meantime been introduced, having the liveliest kind of a quarrel with a big, prize-fighting looking fellow, who was apparently on the point of knocking her down. Of course I flew to her rescue, and demanded to know of the fellow what he meant, also, if he was aware who that lady was, and who her husband was? To which he briefly, sententiously, but as it struck me, irrelevantly remarked, 'Hell.'

"I paid no further attention to him, but turning to Mrs. De Vorse, said: 'Madam, permit me to protect you from that ruffian's insolence.'

"Instead of thanking me, she actually slapped my face, and said, 'I'll teach you to interfere between a man and wife. That's my husband, and we're been married three days. Its a pretty hard thing if a wife can't stop in the street to speak to her husband without having some idiot come and make a muss about it.'

"Now," continued the lawyer, "this is not only a true story, but it is a fair example of the continued trouble that a man gets into who lives in Chicago and doesn't know how to hold his tongue. You now understand why I hate the Chicago customs, and why I go in for indissoluble marriages. I never made a mistake in speaking a man about his wife the whole time I lived in New York, but here I have got into more awkward pisco and had more fights than I can count, just because no man or woman stays married more than a month at furthest."

We drank weak lemonade together in solemn thoughtfulness, and I parted from him with the feeling that, bad as it is to be indissolubly connected with an unpleasant mother-in-law, it is better than to be constantly bothered by a change of wife.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let Us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH, for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possesses this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to receive it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as at the present day, and the answers, which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause, the system must be simultaneously strengthened, regulated and purified.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a tonic, a corrective, a blood depurent, and an aperient.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflammatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient.

CHOLERA.

A Cure for this disease may be found in the use of

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

I have used the medicine known as PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER in my family for the last twelve months, and have great pleasure in testifying to its very valuable properties. I would not on any account be without it. During the existence of the Cholera last year, I used no medicine of any sort but the Pain Killer, although myself and several members of my family were attacked by it severely and I am happy to say that the Pain Killer was equal to every emergency; it was both a preventive and a certain cure. I consider I should not be doing my duty to the community did I not say this much. If I were attacked by the Cholera to-day, the Pain Killer would be the only remedy I should use. I have thoroughly tested it, and know it can be relied on.

PATENT BALTIMORE PARLOR HEATERS

for Anthracite or Bituminous coal, have been in successful operation for the last ten years, and have proved to be the best Fire-place Heaters manufactured and put in operation. They are getting to be generally used, often in the place of furnaces for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwellings and offices. Two or three Stoves heating the largest dwellings, and besides are quite ORNAMENTAL and ILLUMINATING, having all the beauty and cheerfulness of an open grate fire, but are more ECONOMICAL, CLEANER, and RADIATING A LARGER AMOUNT OF HEAT. We can refer to thousands of families who have them in use.

We manufacture our own COOKING STOVES, and we guarantee them to be equal to any sold for baking and cooking. We have Stoves to take in long wood and with large ovens, and are superior Stoves for low ovens. We are getting out some new patterns of Cooking Stoves, that will burn Bituminous coal, hard coal, or wood. They will have a beautiful finish, and will stand as cheap as the New Haven Stoves. Our Cooking Stoves are Baltimore made, and we guarantee the plates. Our Cooking Ranges are pronounced the best and cheapest in the market.—Baking of all kinds can be done, in our Ranges as quickly and equally as well as in a Brick oven. We will manufacture S. B. New Advertisements.

The following New Advertisements appear for the first time in this morning's issue.

The Comet—Tiddy & Bro.
Hornets, Attention.

WORK.—The article headed 'work' which appeared as an editorial in the Observer of yesterday, was written for and published under the editorial head in the TIMES of the 30th of July. That article, gentlemen, was copied in several of our contemporaries, always with due credit. We are rather pleased when we write anything worth republishing, and when it is borrowed, would like the world to know its paternity.

We publish this morning a communication in reference to the old Cemetery. It is written by an old citizen who feels both an interest and pride in this neglected home of our sainted dead. We ask for it a perusal, and then a determination that it shall be neglected no longer. Is money-making the sole object of man's life? Must all the endearing ties be broken, every noble sentiment crushed out, and every refinement ignored, in order that money may be accumulated, and shoddy glory in dazzling shoddyism? Can we, as reasonable creatures, afford to live so forgetful of all those means that cultivate the taste, elevate the tone, and improve the heart? Man is a social creature as well as a money-loving one, and all the appliances which can purify the soul and raise the thoughts, from nature up to nature's God, ought to be appreciated and fostered.

Now, both the old and the new Cemeteries are in a condition to reflect discredit on the taste, liberality and affectionate regard which the living should have towards the dead.

This neglect is not only doing an injury to the city in the estimation of strangers, but lowers the tone, and tends to blunt the sensibilities of the living.

The city is certainly rich enough to give something to the embellishment of this final resting-place of those who were dear to us while living. We have money enough to build fine homes, to indulge in harmfull luxury and ostentatious display; and for those who do so to complain of an appropriation to the Cemeteries would be the heighth of barbarism.

We hope our correspondent and others will continue this subject until our Cemeteries are laid out and beautified in a style that will make them attractive, and a credit to the city.

KOSKOO.—This remarkable restorative and potent medicant was discovered and is compounded in the Laboratory of Dr. J. P. Lawrence, and really performs all that is claimed for it. Read the advertisement, and if you are suffering from any of the ills "flesh is heir to," try KOSKOO and be healed.

☞ See notice of property to rent. This is a very desirable place, and to any one who would like to keep a few cows or raise vegetables for market offers great advantages. There are six acres of land now in a high state of cultivation; a good orchard, with an abundance of excellent apples; a fruitful garden and a well of pure and cool water in the yard. The house is not attractive outside, but the internal arrangements are convenient and comfortable. It contains five rooms and out-buildings for a good sized family. The property is just opposite the Female College and within 15 minutes walk of the public square. It will be rented with the growing crop, and two cows either sold or hired with it. Possession given to suit the renter.

Apply at this Office.

MR. EDITOR.—Will you please call the attention of the city authorities to the miserably neglected condition of the Old Grave Yard. The weeds and briars have taken possession of it and are now higher than many of the tombstones, so that it is out of the question for a lady to walk through it with any comfort. It is positively a disgrace to the citizens of Charlotte, and a serious reflection upon the officers of the Town that the last resting place of the old citizens should be so neglected.

The appropriation of a part of the public funds of the city could not give more general satisfaction to the community, than a regular salary to a competent man, to take charge of and keep in order The Old Grave Yard, where lie interred the original founders of our Town, the men who gave the first impetus to its growth, the Alexanders, the Polks, the Davidsons,, the Grahams, the Hendersons, the Springs, the Fatsons, the Irwins, the McCombs, the Masons, the Allisons, the Orrs and a host of others, among them the most eminent lawyer that ever graced our Court, Joseph Wilson, whose descendents are amongst us.

If the city Authorities can not spare funds for this praiseworthy object, it is proposed that a meeting of the citizens be called, and a regular gardener be employed to keep it as it ought to be kept.

LATEST NEWS.

Washington.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—P. M. Secretery of War Rawlins says Gen. Canby will not exact the test oath from Virginia legislators. There are no indications of the reported change in the cabinet at the War office.

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which Koskoo has attained in all parts of the country as has induced Dr. Lawrence to enlarge his Laboratory and facilities for manufacturing, so as to be enabled to supply the extraordinary demand for it.

THE LARGE NUMBER OF TESTIMONIALS

which are constantly being received from Physicians and persons who have BEEN CURED by its use, is CONCLUSIVE PROOF of its REMARKABLE VALUE.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUALS

BEING POSITIVELY THE

MOST POWERFUL VEGETABLE ALTERATIVE

YET DISCOVERED

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The Life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true—The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular opinions this of Bad blood is founded in truth. To say nothing of those humours that are hereditary, we can easily see how the blood may become bad from imperfect Digestion or failure of excretion, and how this may influence the process of Nutrition, and thus influence all the functional activities of the body.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues lose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered, with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the people are afflicted with scrofula in some form.

Persons suffering from any bad humor are very liable to have it settle on the Lungs or some other vital organ. The only safe rule is to remove the Blood-poison at once, before it settles itself upon some vital organ.

When the blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital energy will return to you.

KOSKOO! KOS-KOO!

AS A

LIVER INVIGORATOR,

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

BEING THE ONLY KNOWN MEDICINE

that EFFECTUALLY stimulates and CORRECTS the her atic secretions and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, WITHOUT DEBILITATING the system. While it acts freely upon the Liver instead of causing purging, it gradually changes the discharges to a perfect-ly natural state.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT,

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes headach; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, &c.

K O S K O O !

Is a remedy of WONDERFUL EFFICACY in the CURE of diseases of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER. In THESE AFFECTIONS IT IS AS NEARLY SPECIFIC as any remedy can be. It does its work kindly, silently, and SURELY. The RELIEF which it affords is both certain and perceptible.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys cannot estimate the importance of their healthy action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the blood those effete matters, which if permitted to remain would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to urinate more frequently than natural, or when the urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the Urine being imperfectly secreted in the Kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys except through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO! KOSKOO!

Meets with GREAT SUCCESS (as hundreds of certificates will show), in the CURE of DISEASES OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to the concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Often sands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work, (mental and physical), are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful ratio.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows: A dull heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical Headache, Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in answering questions; Dulness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, &c., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Imporence, Apoplexy, &c. &c.

CONCLUSION.

Suffering reader, do not think that because you have tried other remedies, you cannot be cured—but recollect that God, in His Providence, has not afflicted his children with pain and disease, without at the same time giving them something in the Great Garden of Nature that will cure them.

Have no hesitation in writing to us, and stating your case in full, and I will answer you promptly.
